12th Annual REIAC Debt Panel Brings Industry Giants to Atlanta

Those of us old enough to have lived through a few cycles tend to get nervous five years into a recovery. From today's perspective, it's all blue skies, growing NOI, persistently low financing costs and demand that's spreading into second tier and even tertiary markets. Or, will new capital reserves or volume cap requirements cause a "market-making" pull back in lending? What do the top executives in finance think about these current conditions and what gives them pause when they commit to ten and twenty year financing?

REIAC proudly presents a master class in assessing real estate risk with the heads of three of the top financing sources in the country:

- David Brickman heads Freddie Mac's massive $180 billion multifamily business;
- David Durning is the global head of Prudential Mortgage Capital – one of the country's top and most reliable lenders with over $87.9 billion in assets under management;
- Larry Kravetz runs Barclay's CMBS finance efforts and has consistently been among the top capital markets lenders since the market rebound in 2010; and
- The panel will be skillfully moderated by REIAC's own Brian Olasov, CREFC Policy Chairman.

Please join us for this unique gathering of the top minds in commercial real estate finance at REIAC's 12th annual debt conference. As always, an array of food and an open bar will be provided. We thank our generous sponsors for their support: Cantor Commercial Real Estate; Cardno ATC; Crown Advisors; Dentons US LLP; First American Title Insurance Co.; Habif Arogeti & Wynne; Georgia State University; Georgia Primary Bank; and KeyBank Real Estate Capital.

As we have in past years, we are opening up attendance to the entire Atlanta commercial real estate community! As a result, we look forward to a large gathering at the Grand Hyatt in Buckhead on September 17th.
